

A few field trip ideas from EverydayHomemaking.com:

(For some that seem fairly “everyday,” ask for a manager about a hands-on or behind-the-scenes tour. Even a medical visit can become an educational field trip with a little advance planning!)

Ice skating	Distribution center	Photo processing lab
Roller skating	Bakery	Chiropractor
State capitol	State park	Dentist
Bowling alley	Local historic attractions	Caverns
Pizzeria kitchen tour	Plant nursery	Grocery store (they give tours, health talks)
Local little theater/playhouse	Zoo	Eye doctor
Ballroom dance studio	Aquarium	Children’s museum (hands-on)
Movie theater	Post office	Local hospital (ours has a “teddy bear” tour for kids)
Symphony	Fire station	Horse farm/stables
Art museum	Police station	Local university
Recycling facility	Historic homes	Shoe repair shop
Water treatment plant	Courthouse	Nature trail
Gem mine	Factories	Arboretum
Botanical gardens	Pumpkin patch	Restaurant
Television or radio station	Farmer’s market	Car dealership
Movie studio	Berry farm	YMCA
Newspaper	Peanut or cotton fields	Bank
Soapmaker	Dairy farm	Military museum or installation
Bird-banding station	Weather station	Historic cemetery
Art studio	Science museum	Shopping for Angel Tree or Operation Christmas Child gifts
Chocolate factory	Historical museum	Health food store
Spice factory	Sheep shearing
Snack factory	County or state fair	